TUESDAY, JULY 14, 1908.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

What man has not stripped the Grotton Pond region of the fire will.

Frequent delays in hearing Harry Shaw's case make it look like a life sentence for him, after all.

There's yet another state convention in Vermont, the Spellman-Hearst convention in Rutland to-morrow.

Governor Guild's friends will not down; they are now booming the Massachusetts chief executive for Congress.

Last night's rainfall was a mere drop in the bucket compared with what is needed; but even that was very welcome.

The inmate of the Waterbury asylum who manufactured a key which let himself, and later two others, out of the institution is named Sharpe; well named, it seems.

The office of attorney-general in Vermont is the bone of contention just now; but its virtues are so strong that it bids fair to weather the small gale that is sweeping about it.

The "Brad B. Smalley faction of the Vermont Democracy" is being hailed as still on top in Vermont. In other words, the "old uns" still rule, and the young blood will continue to keep a back seat.

American whist players came back from England, successful; so did the American shooters. Likewise the American athletes are expected to return. Mr. Stead's Americanization of the world is surely being accomplished.

It is cheering news that the railroad magnates are beginning to fear a car famine the coming fall. Then those statistics about thousands of side-tracked freight vehicles will take the "rest cure" after being miserably overworked since the first of January.

THE STATE'S FINANCES.

The state of Vermont is not so near the condition of bankruptcy as we have been asked to believe recently by some of our friends. On the contrary, the financial status, as revealed by the state treasurer's report published in another column, is good—satisfactory, we may say. On the face of it, there appears to be a deficit of $148,166.23, and there is that amount of liabilities over assets at the close of the biennial period on June 30, last. But that deficit is accounted for by the transfer of the Huntington school fund to the liability column through an act of the last legislature which decrees that the Huntington fund, together with the Civil war claims and the United States deposit money, shall be kept in a separate account and held in reserve as a permanent school fund. If it had not been for this necessity of transfer, State Treasurer Devitt would have been enabled to report an excess of assets over liabilities of $62,963.18, which, in view of the expenditure of nearly $30,000 for permanent highway work, is quite reassuring. It is to be assumed that there will be relatively as large receipts for the coming two years, so that the state of Vermont should maintain its credit for a time longer.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Sunday Excursions.

It is announced that Attorney-General C. C. Fitts has ruled that it is not unlawful to run Sunday excursions where precautions are taken to promote the observance of law and order. This was brought out in connection with the attempt made in Lamoille county to prevent the Central Vermont from running an excursion to Burlington for a ride on Lake Champlain, to which end the services of the state's attorney were invoked. It is difficult for the uninitiated to see the difference between a ride on Sunday on the electric cars and one on steam cars where the same degree of decorum and good behavior prevails.—Burlington Free Press.

NORTHFIELD.

Funeral of Dean R. Johnson Held Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of Dean R. Johnson was held at the home yesterday afternoon and was largely attended. The Rev. E. W. Sharpe officiated and Company F attended in a body. Interment was made in the Center cemetery. There were many beautiful flowers upon and about the casket.

Francis Wells left yesterday for a week at Silver Lake, Barnard.

Fred Brassaw is erecting a building on King street in which he will locate his grocery and fruit store.

Miss M. L. Newell left Saturday for

Excursion to St. Anne de Beaupre, see adv. on page 2.

Homer Ferrin of Davenport, Ia., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ferrin, his parents.

Harold Bishop, Harold Atkins, Neal Godfrey and G. T. McAllister left yesterday morning for a week's stay at Highgate Springs.

The bans of marriage between Louis Labelle and Miss Grace Carroll were published Sunday morning in St. Augustine's church.

L. P. Barrett, formerly of St. Albans, now a student in the university of Michigan at Ann Arbor, was in town Sunday night. He is on a pedestrian trip through Vermont and New Hampshire.

C. B. Roberts, superintendent of streets, and Alderman Volholm and Butler of the committee on streets from the city council, went yesterday to Boston. They will be joined there by Alderman Emmons and will inspect the roads and road building in and around Boston.

Montpelier people who have cottages at Curtis pond in Calais have this summer made a great pet of a huge bass which has become so tame that it will take food from their hands. This fish was taken from the water Saturday afternoon with a net and placed on the scales, tipping the beam at exactly ten pounds. It was carefully returned to its native element and has been a little shy since.

MIDDLEBURY IS PRIMING.

For The State Firemen's Convention Latter Part of The Week.

Middlebury, July 14.—The entries for the firemen's tournament to be held in this village closed at noon yesterday and the following entries have been received: Randolph Hose company of Randolph, Boxer Hose company of Burlington, Lafayette Hose company, No. 2, of Winoski, Winoski Steamer Hose company, No. 1, of Winoski, Volunteer Hose company, No. 2, of Vergennes, C. C. Knight Hose company, No. 2, of Fair Haven, Port Henry Hose company, No. 1, of Port Henry, N. Y., J. K. Durkee Hose company of Fort Edward, N. Y., Albert Hose company of Keesville, N. Y., Leonard Biddy Hose company, No. 4, of Port Edward, N. Y. About every company that has entered the races has men entered for the other contests.

The procession will form on Depot street at 10:30 Thursday morning with Col. T. M. Chapman as chief marshal with aides, Middlebury band, officers of the Vermont State Firemen's association in teams, Middlebury fire department under command of N. J. Sanford assistant chief engineer, followed by the visiting companies. The parade will traverse the principal streets to the fair grounds where it will disband. The merchants are decorating for the occasion and everything promises to be the biggest event of the season.

SOUTH BARRE.

There will be a dance in Unity Temple Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Good music is assured.

MONUMENT ON JUNIPER.

Commission Think One to Champlain Would Look Well.

Burlington, July 14.—Gov. F. D. Proctor, Horace W. Bailey of Rutland, Prof. Walter E. Howard of Middlebury, M. D. McMahon of Burlington and Lynn M. Hayes of Essex Junction, members of the Vermont Champlain tercentenary commission, held a meeting at the Van Ness house yesterday afternoon. Congressman D. J. Foster also met with the commission. The desirability of Juniper Island as a place for the proposed monument was discussed. Mr. Foster will take the matter up with the federal government with a view to obtaining permission to erect a monument there.

Mr. Foster stated that the next Congress would undoubtedly make an appropriation for the observation of the tercentenary and he said Secretary Root would advise an appropriation of $250,000 as the nation's contribution.
